Kiko+

ofune

kiko+ "ofune" is made from Hinoki cypress from Hiroshima, Japan.

"Ofune", a wind-up boat made from Japanese hinoki wood. Hinoki is an ancient cypress wood native to Japan.

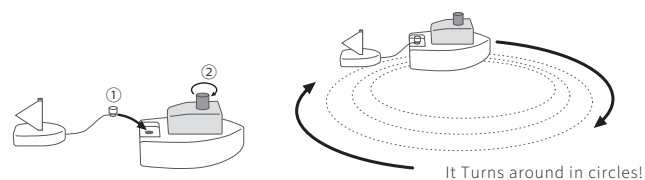

It's aroma is like a purifying dip in the forest and known for its calming effects.

Light-weight, antimicrobial and naturally resistant to humidity, it's been used for centuries in Japanese bathhouses.

Which makes it the perfect material for bath toys too.

To set "Ofune" to sail, first wind the rotating knob. Then, place in the bath or small pool and watch the big boat tug the baby boat around in circles!

Available in lavender / blue / pink.

Big thanks from kikoandgg ♡

In today's uncertain world, the one thing we want is to keep our kids smiling. And this positive spirit starts with us, right? That's why no matter what the kiko+gg Team Japan always keeps on their happy face and working with a joyful heart. Could this be the secret to being able to keep creating new and unique toys that make people smile?

In March 2021 we teamed up with Emi Meyer, a well-known singer/songwriter in Japan, to promote the relaunch of Amechan wooden bubble wand set.

Funnily enough, Emi first discovered kiko+ & gg* in Australia, where she spotted the Wakka water game in a store and bought it for her kids. She later connected with creative director Kaz* through Instagram and a fun collaboration was born!

It's been 13 years since Kukkia Co LTD was founded. During this time, kiko+ & gg* toys have made their way all across the world!

Would you believe that Sara*, pictured above, was just 7 yrs old when our toys were first launched? She's now a lovely young lady and celebrated her 20th birthday this year ~ time flies! Happy 20th, Sara* ♡

Say cheeeeeez!

Wishing you more smiles and happiness during your family time♡

Lots of love from all of us at kikoandgg.
